Instructors Bio: Dan Bienenfeld is a world renowned Hellerwork Structural Integration trainer and practitioner with 30 years of experience. He is past president of the Hellerwork Practitioner's Association and currently co-director of the California Hellerwork Institute. Dan was co-founder of Los Angeles Healing Arts Center, one of the nation's largest multi-specialty integrative medical centers. Prior to founding the center, Dan built a strong foundation for this work from many years of facilitating programs in Structural Integration oriented ergonomics for large corporate clients such as Johnson and Johnson. Dan's commitment as an author and teacher ultimately springs from his deep passion and love for his work and his desire to effect a positive healing transformation for as many people as possible.
